

CALL FOR PAPERS

ATLANTIC REGION PHILOSOPHERS ASSOCIATION

2012 Annual Meeting

University of Prince Edward Island

October 12-13, 2012

Keynote Address by

Kathryn Pauly Morgan

University of Toronto

“From Potatoes to ‘Freedom Fries’:

Foucault and the Biopolitics of the Body Artifact.”

Professor Morgan, a gifted speaker, has published extensively in the areas of feminist ethics and bioethics (on such topics as romantic love, androgyny, cosmetic surgery, sexuality, reproductive technologies, gender identity, and weight-loss surgery), on philosophy of the body, critical disability studies, feminist bio-technoscience, theorizing medicalization politics, and feminist pedagogy. She thinks and writes primarily through a feminist/Foucauldian lens.

CALL FOR PAPERS

Papers in any area or tradition of philosophy are welcome.

Please e-mail abstracts of 100 - 200 words to: nkujundzic@upei.ca

Include your name, contact information, institutional affiliation, as well as a (short) title with your abstract.

The deadline for receiving submissions is Tuesday, 31 July, 2012

Organizing committee: Neb Kujundzic, Pamela Courtenay-Hall, and Malcolm Murray.

Please email nkujundzic@upei.ca with any questions you may have.

Further information will be posted to <http://www.mystfx.ca/arpa/> as it becomes available.

SPECIAL FEATURE

“The Philosopher,” a short one-act play by Malcolm Murray, will be performed on Saturday evening. This comedic, quasi-absurdist play looks at the role of philosophy in the contemporary world. It won rave reviews at PEI’s Theatre Festival in March, 2012.