CHANCELLOR'S MESSAGE

DR. JOHN PEACOCK '63
Chancellor

Dear Xaverians:

Congratulations on reaching this special milestone. It is an achievement not only for you, but also for those who've helped you along the way -- so I hope you take some time to thank them, amidst the chaos of this weekend.

Although my own convocation is now firmly in the rearview mirror, I can't help but remain optimistic that the lessons I learned as a student at StFX, and which have carried me through these past 60 years, are also the lessons that you've learned here. Now, more than ever, Being Xaverian is both an opportunity and a responsibility to be an outstanding citizen of the global community.

The world has shifted since I graduated in 1963, of course, but history allows us to reflect and to understand the factors that shaped the past -- and to draw hope that despite challenges, we will persist. Despite some of those challenges happening in far-off places, I urge you to recognize that the global community is made up of people whose lives hold more in common with ours than we might think.

You are graduating from StFX, a community that cares. You understand what it means to belong to a collective, and you have been taught to listen and learn. You engage in dialogue with the hopes of understanding others. Now is the time for you to use the Xaverian ethos in the new communities you will join, to show that there is power in empathy.

Congratulations on all your accomplishments. You've made us very proud.

Alumni Association President's Message

KATHLEEN SHERDIAN '15

Ottawa, ON

Congratulations, graduates! You've made it! Through all that you have faced during these last few years, including the challenge of completing your studies at StFX as the world dealt with a pandemic, you have reached this very important milestone. I hope you take a moment today to pause and truly reflect on this achievement. You should be so proud!

All the hard work and dedication it has taken to earn your degrees, from one of Canada's best universities, has ensured you are each leaving as individuals who are more educated, more informed, and more engaged citizens of the world, ready and able to tackle whatever lies ahead.

Although this significant and special part of your lives is coming to a close, another exciting one awaits! I have no doubt you will all continue to do amazing things, with Xaverian values guiding your way. You are now officially members of the StFX Alumni Association, joining a legacy of 50,000+ others who have crossed this stage before you. This community of dedicated and loyal Xaverians will be here to support you in the next phases of your lives, providing everything from a warm welcome at your first StFX Alumni Chapter event, to a friendly face (and familiar ring!) as you move to a new city, and so much more to keep you connected to your now alma mater. We are looking forward to getting to know you all!

Congratulations again, and welcome to "Canada's most engaged alumni network"! We are excited to have you join our alumni family as we work towards positioning the Association for a strong future through our 2023-2028 Strategic Plan and strive to keep the StFX spirit alive and thriving for all alumni.

DR. DJANET SEARS '23

Toronto, ON

Djanet Sears is a celebrated Canadian playwright, an acclaimed theatre director, and an assistant professor at the Centre for Drama, Theatre and Performance Studies at the University of Toronto. Her work has graced the stages of Mirvish Productions, Nightwood Theatre, Obsidian Theatre, Black Theatre Workshop, Centaur Theatre, National Arts Centre, the Public Theatre, Stratford Shakespeare Festival, Crossroads Theatre, the Royal Shakespeare Company, Soulpepper Theatre, St. Louis Black Repertory, Canadian Stage, and Factory Theatre. Additionally, her plays have been widely published and translated. Her play The Adventures of a Black Girl in Search of God, won six META Awards (Montreal English Theatre Award), after a successful run at the National Arts Centre and The Centaur Theatre. Harlem Duet, another of her multiple award-winning plays, is a non-chronological prequel to Shakespeare's Othello, and was featured as part of Nightwood Theatre, Stratford Shakespeare Festival and Tarragon Theatre's seasons. As well, her production of Ntozake Shange's choreopoem for colored girls who have considered suicide when the rainbow is enuf at Soulpepper Theatre in Toronto, garnered rave reviews and ran to sold-out houses. Ms. Sears has been a Visiting Professor at Stanford University, where she both taught playwriting, and directed a production for the Drama Department. She has also been awarded a Creative Fellowship at the Royal Shakespeare Company, in association with Warwick University. This fellowship included collaborating as part of the creative team on the world premiere production of Margaret Atwood's Penelopiad in Stratford-Upon-Avon, England, a co-production between the RSC in the UK and the National Arts Centre in Canada. Ms. Sears is the recipient of a Governor General's Literary Award (Canada's highest literary honour for dramatic writing), a Canadian Screenwriting Award, the Floyd S. Chalmers Canadian Play Award, the Martin Luther King Jr. Achievement Award, a Gold Prize at the International Radio Festival of New York, the William Kilbourne Toronto Arts Council Award, a Reel Black Award, and a Harry Jerome Award for Excellence in the Cultural Industries. She has been the artistic director of the AfriCanadian Playwrights Festival. Ms. Sears is a founding member of the Obsidian Theatre Company, and the editor of two anthologies: Testifyin': Contemporary African Canadian Drama, Vols. I & II (firsts of their kind in Canada). She is currently working on two new works for the stage.

OUTSTANDING STAFF TEACHING AWARD

SHERRY NEVILLE-MACLEAN '05 '15

Psychology

Sherry Neville-MacLean has been a lab instructor in the Department of Psychology since August 2018. She is described as a flexible, collaborative, highly competent, and trusted colleague who is exceptionally committed to student learning and is always willing to try something new that might benefit students. Her master's degree in education is reflected in her approach to every lab, her grading, and all interactions with students. Nominators say it is evident that she knows how to teach and that she is confident and comfortable in the classroom. Over the years, she has taken it upon herself to develop new course materials (lectures, assignments, peer assessment tools) that can be used in lab. Many of these served her well when it became necessary to move to online course instruction. She is adept in using Moodle and other programs and has become a go-to person for questions on educational technology. She is an enthusiastic educator. She regularly participates in webinars and reading groups, and she keeps up to date in education literature. Recently, she demonstrated significant leadership in the Brain and Behaviour labs, in which she and Dr. Erin Mazerolle collaboratively introduced a service learning component through which students had opportunity to put their neuroscience skills into practice by planning and running the first-ever Antigonish Brain Bee, a neuroscience competition for high school students.

OUTREACH AWARD

PAULINE MACINTOSH '90

Coady Institute

Pauline MacIntosh worked with the StFX Extension Department from 1997 until its merger with the Coady International Institute in 2021, at which time Coady Institute was formed. An experienced adult educator and facilitator, she is passionate about working with groups engaged in asset-based community development, capacity strengthening and education, and leadership for learning and change. Ms. MacIntosh grew up in a family that believed in community and cooperation and this influenced her from an early age. Her service to community has taken many forms, including volunteer canvasser with the Canadian Cancer

Society, Tree of Lights volunteer with the Antigonish Guysborough Early Childhood Intervention Program, 4-H leader, speaker and process facilitator, and Lower South River Pre-School board director, among others. Ms. MacIntosh has had immeasurable impact on her community, dedicating countless volunteer hours in numerous capacities over many years. She currently volunteers as Vice Chair of the St. Andrews Community Partnership Board of Directors, an organization comprised of 12 non-profit community-based organizations; Vice Chair of the Antigonish Affordable Housing Society Board of Directors, a non-profit housing organization that owns and operates 28 homes in Antigonish; and Vice Chair of the Nova Scotia Co-operative Council Board of Directors, which serves as the voice of the co-operative movement in Nova Scotia. Description of Degree Hoods

All hoods for earned degrees at this university follow the approved design and colour coding of the Intercollegiate Bureau of Academic Costume. This guarantees uniqueness of design and colour arrangement for the academic hoods of each university.

For purposes of academic regalia, the university colours are described as Yale blue and white, and they are used in identical fashion in the hoods for all earned degrees. That is to say, the lining for hoods are all the same and serve to identify the university rather than any particular degree. This lining, therefore, is blue divided by a chevron of white.

The binding or edging of the hood is of velvet, two inches wide for all bachelor's degrees and three inches wide for all master's degrees and five inches for PhD. The academic discipline is recognizable from the colour of this velvet binding or trim.

Degree candidates will wear gowns and the hood of the degree to be received. Colours of the lining of the hood are exposed over the left shoulder, velvet trim and black shell on the right shoulder.

Diploma candidates will wear collars. If candidate also has a degree, the colours of that degree should be worn.
