

Master of Adult Education (M.Ad.Ed.) Health Course Registration Information

The M.Ad.Ed. is a cohort model program intended to build an inter-professional community of practice of learners within each cohort. The program design, from the foundations to theory to critical issues to professional education and research, scaffolds learning from course to course, from the required to the elective courses or thesis. For scheduling ease, cohorts' courses are scheduled for the same evening every week. For example, cohorts that start on Wednesday evening will always have classes on Wednesdays. Courses are intended to be taken in sequence. The six core (required) courses should be completed first, then two defined Health concentration electives and two additional elective courses.

The recommended sequence is:

Core (Required) Courses for ALL Students in the Health Stream

Order	Course Number	Course Title
1	ADED 535	Introduction to Adult Education Foundations
2	ADED 540	Adult Learning Theory and Practice
3	ADED 531	Critical Issues in Health and Adult Education
4	ADED 550	Continuing Professional Education and Portfolio
5	ADED 565	Reading and Critiquing Research in Adult Education

Course Planning & Registration Information

How do I plan my courses?

Students are encouraged to use the MAdEd Health Registration Worksheet (September Start or January Start) to organize their course registrations. These worksheets are available here: <https://www.stfx.ca/department/adult-education/current-students>

I would like to speak with a faculty member for academic advising about my M.Ad.Ed.

Please reach out to Department Chair, Dr. Bill Walters, wwalters@stfx.ca for academic advising. Alternatively, students can reach out to the program stream leads:

Health Stream - Dr. Maureen Coady, mjcoady@stfx.ca

Classic Stream - Dr. Robin Neustaeter rneustae@stfx.ca

Where do I find course information for registration?

Courses are found in the M.Ad.Ed. Course Calendar (July to June) released in spring. This calendar lists courses by program stream (Classic or Health) then by cohort chronologically by start month and year (i.e. September 2024), starting with the Classic Cohorts in orange, followed by the Health Cohorts in blue. It is helpful to know your cohort number, for example, Classic Cohort #5. The Course Calendar is available on the department website here: <https://www.stfx.ca/department/adult-education/current-students>

Prior to registration opening for the next semesters, students will receive an email from the department with the course information for the next course for their cohort. This will include the course title, CRN (course number), day of the week, and instructor. These details will help students identify which course is scheduled next for their cohort.

* Courses are designated for MAdEd - Classic or MAdEd - Health. Students can only register in courses for the cohort (Classic or Health) that they are registered in. This means, for example, that a student in a M.Ad.Ed. Health cohort cannot self-register for a course designated for a M.Ad.Ed. Classic cohort and vice versa.

Health Cohort courses have a CRN ending with 'H'. Classic Cohort courses have a CRN ending with a number.

When can I register for my courses?

At this time, course registration is on a semester-to-semester basis, meaning a student can register for a course in the next semester only. Registration for the next semester will open one month before the next semester start date. For example, if the semester starts September 5, course registration opens August 5. If the registration opening date falls on a weekend or holiday, registration will open the next business day. For example, if September 5 is a Sunday or holiday, registration opens August 6.

Course registration is open until the first day of the course. To register after the course starts, please contact the department at aesecret@stfx.ca
