

Research Security Funding USE – Performance Report 2025-26

The following table outlines the current StFX Research Security fund performance objectives and indicators that will be tracked in accordance with federal Research Support Fund requirements (April 1, 2025, to March 31, 2026).

Research Security Project	Institutional Performance Objective	Indicator	Outcome	Outcomes Reported at Year End
Professional Development for Research Security.	To ensure that StFX has the internal knowledge capacity to appropriately apply the requirements of the STRAC framework and adequately assess research security risks associated with proposed research projects.	Number and types of professional development completed by Research Services Group staff. Performance Report: Staff participated in a STRAC workshop in Fredericton New Brunswick in May 2025 Staff participated in one online workshop/information session on research security. StFX hosted two in-person workshops on campus on research security, led by Regional Advisor (Atlantic), National Security Policy Directorate, in January 2026.	Enhanced research risk, security, knowledge and capability in our Research Services Group. Performance Report: Staff increased their security knowledge and capability. The RSG will be able to adequately assess research security risks associated with research proposals in a timely manner. Staff have the capacity to advise research applicants on potential research security risks and to assess applications for same.	Number and types of professional development completed by Research Services Group staff. Performance Report: 4 Number of research applications assessed for research security risks within the past year. Performance Report: 4